Product description

Castelli Prosecco Tech thermal undershirt

Castelli Prosecco Tech is a warm and very comfortable cycling undershirt. It was made from a special Prosecco fabric, which perfectly distributes moisture over a larger surface area, thus wicking it away faster. This makes it significantly more comfortable while riding. The Castelli Prosecco Tech cycling undershirt has flat seams. As a result, it does not pinch or cause chafing, even during prolonged riding. Where the suspenders of the cycling pants overlap the undershirt, more breathable PrimaLoft material is used for even better ventilation. A neckline provides a better fit over cycling shirts and sweatshirts that lack a collar. When combined with other garments, it protects well against the cold. This makes the Castelli Prosecco Tech cycling undershirt perfect for colder days, providing you with good thermal comfort.
